SUCCESS STORIES

PARENTCHILD+ PROGRAM

Emily

Emily used to be quiet and timid, but her self-confidence skyrocketed after her enrollment at José Martí Child Development Center. JMCDC teachers helped Emily make this transition by establishing a routine, befriending her classmates, and reading books about feelings and emotions. By the time Emily graduated from pre-school, her social/emotional development and academic performance were outstanding.

She recognizes and makes sounds of all the letters in the alphabet in both English and Spanish, and she knows numbers 1-100. By sounding out the letters, she is beginning to read words, including the names of all of her classmates! Emily's first language is Spanish, but she can understand and speak English at the same proficiency level. Emily likes to converse in English and enjoys reading stories in both English and Spanish.

She started Kindergarten in September 2019.

LETTER from the EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND BOARD PRESIDENT

Estimad@s Amig@s,

2019 marked the end of an amazing decade, thanks to you. Whether you are a long-time supporter or had recently heard of us, you inspire the “Beloved Community” with your commitment, generosity, and selflessness. When we reflect on the past year, we recognize that you have helped improve our communities in significant ways by:

- Earning a place in North American history after our main building was announced on the National Register of Historic Places because El Centro de la Raza is rife with cultural, social, and political significance.
- Expanding our culturally responsive programs and services to South King County, where 56% of King County’s Latino community lives.
- Extending aging services, support, outreach, connection, and social engagement all day for isolated seniors known as the El Centro de la Raza Senior Hub.
- Serving as a national example of affordable housing development, made possible by the Jack Kemp Excellence in Affordable and Workforce Award for Plaza Roberto Maestas-Beloved Community.
- Amplifying the voices in our communities through outreach and education efforts for Census 2020 and this year’s critical elections.

What a year of accomplishments you helped us earn! We invite you to read more about your accomplishments in this 2019 Annual Report. As you read, you will see how your compassion has helped program participants to establish a precedent for building assets to combat intergenerational trauma and poverty, to accessing culturally relevant tools for attaining their fullest human potential, and setting comprehensive life-changing opportunities in motion for 21,324 individuals and 7,824 families across King County through our 43 programs and services.

About $8 billion over three years will be cut from Washington State’s budget, which causes uncertainty in our communities. One thing we know is that when we can come up with winning solutions, struggling families can begin to save and invest in their children’s futures. You have always provided inspired us to think bigger. Together, we are unstoppable and will never stand down from empowering and defending our community members.

Respetuosamente,

Estela Ortega

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY CENTER/ FINANCIAL EMPOWERMENT

Rosa

Rosa enrolled in our Business Opportunity Center program with hopes to launch her food cart business. She attended the series of business development workshops where she learned the process of starting a business. Upon completion of the program, she wanted to increase her credit score, and El Centro de la Raza had another program called Financial Empowerment in which Rosa enrolled.

Rosa received one-on-one assistance in her own native language on how to improve her credit score. She also learned how to manage her money and budget, as well as how to avoid predatory lenders. Equipped with additional knowledge and tools, Rosa created an informed plan to pay down her debt aggressively before applying for a grant from Mercy Corp's Northwest IDA Grant Program.

“Having these services helps our community further understand the importance of budgeting, a credit score, and money management.”

It was an extensive application process, but Rosa's drive and hard work paid off because eventually Mercy Corps approved her to receive a $5,000 grant! She used that money towards establishing her food cart business. In spite of COVID-19's impact on Rosa's business, she feels rewarded for pursuing her dream as a business owner.

JOSÉ MARTÍ CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

Early Learning Graduates

José Martí Child Development Center (JMCD) graduated 100 children from pre-school. We honored them at a special dinner where JMCD staff, teachers, and families celebrated this great milestone. The students worked hard all year long and made outstanding progress in all areas of development: social/emotional, physical, cognitive, and language. The students performed a variety of cultural dances and sang songs in English, Spanish, and Mandarin. Towards the end of the event, each child received a completion certificate. They are now ready for their next step: Kindergarten! Mil gracias to the ECEAP and Step Ahead programs and Seattle Public Library for supporting early literacy.

OUR PLACE IN HISTORY

El Centro de la Raza is historically known as the Beacon Hill School. The building's architecture was ahead of its time. However, its limited capacity could not accommodate the growing student population at the time, and the school was forced to relocate. At the same time, cultural and political factors limited people of color's access to education and other critical community resources.

President Nixon was in office and his administration redirected funds to supporting the war effort. There was no longer a commitment to the War on Poverty. Students at South Seattle College, whose English as a Second Language classes were defunded by the administration, then took action. What that looked like was a peaceful multiracial occupation of the abandoned Beacon Hill School. Seattle's Chicano/Mexicano movement was born and the building became a symbol of hope.

Today we are a thriving hub for all communities to engage in civic action, celebrate culture through art, and increase community sustainability through transit-oriented, mixed-use development. In 2019 we received the Jack Kemp Excellence in Affordable and Workforce Housing Awards for our on-site mixed-use amenities near multiple public transit modes. Our 43 programs and services span across five primary areas: Child and Youth, Human and Emergency Services, Education and Asset-building, Housing and Economic Development, and Community Organizing and Advocacy.

We have the honor of being listed in the National Register of Historic Places as of June 2019. For centuries, our communities built a great country in which we live but were excluded from conversations that ultimately shaped our nation. For centuries, our stories of suffering were told for us. For centuries, we labored, resisted, and survived.

We stand on the shoulders of those who came before us. They changed the course of history. This recognition means we can preserve their stories, lessons, and memories created in this very building, our home. Its symbolic value is a timeless representation of multiracial unity during times of peril and prosperity. We proudly bear the responsibility of changing the mainstream narrative of disenfranchised communities by finally being the ones to tell our own stories.

We are excited to announce that we have published a textbook about El Centro de la Raza. These textbooks will be distributed to colleges, universities, and libraries across the country. The paperback book will be available later this year. To pre-order your copy now, please call 206-957-4605.

We share El Centro de la Raza's rich stories & walk the same hallways as the trailblazers who occupied this building in 1972.

Visit our website to register for Café con El Centro de la Raza first Thursday of each month at 8 AM.

BUILDING THE BELOVED COMMUNITY GALA

The Building the Beloved Community Gala is one of our largest events. Attended by nearly 800 guests and with the help of almost 100 volunteers, you helped raise $448,048 for the Beloved Community. Thanks to your generosity, this event was successful. Mil gracias to our sponsors, table ambassadors, speakers, donors, volunteers, and Washington State Convention Center staff who made this event possible. We enjoyed a beautiful evening with everyone.

Felicidades to our Roberto Felipe Maestas Scholarship recipients who are proud first-generation college students: Guadalupe Corona, Gonzalo Cruz, Cecilia Espinoza, Karyna Garcia Marin, Graciela Gomez, Mitzi Olivera, Cielo Martinez, Nancy Mendoza, Empress Robinson, and Gisela Tampico. Recipients received $1,000 each to be applied towards their post-secondary education.

SUCCESS STORIES

ROBOTICS PROGRAM Paolo

In 2019, El Centro de la Raza launched its youth robotics program. When the program participants learned they were going to compete against other Washington State teams, they declared themselves the Bahlam Bots. A Mayan scientist who spent his life advancing the sciences inspired this name. It is also a tribute to their Aztec and Mayan ancestors, who were technological pioneers.

During the state competition, our student participants were excited to represent El Centro de la Raza but, more importantly, themselves. Judges rated each team based on their execution of robotic movements, level of participation, and sportsmanlike attitude. One of the participants, Paolo*, acknowledged the importance of team communication, leadership style, and application of technical skills.

“This rewarding experience was my first time exploring robotics. While the challenges were kind of hard, our team combined multiple ideas and we made a robot that could move. It completed two challenges. We won the Inspiration Award and it made me feel like we earned it as a team. I want to continue growing my robotics knowledge by attending classes at El Centro de la Raza. For the next competition, we will be even more ready to win.”

Mil gracias to COMCAST and Amazon Future Engineers for making this program possible!

LABOR STANDARDS OUTREACH & EDUCATION Jorge

Jorge* was referred to El Centro de la Raza for an employment wage theft issue. His employer refused to pay workers overtime and usually pays them in cash. The owner owed Jorge 260 hours of unpaid overtime and his final paycheck. The employer was clearly taking advantage of Jorge, paying him well below the legal amount. El Centro de la Raza’s staff educated Jorge on his rights. The staff also helped him retain his job and file a wage theft complaint with the Washington State’s Labor & Industries Department.

SUCCESS STORIES

BENEFITS ENROLLMENT NAVIGATION Jose, Jorge, & Alejandro

Jose* left Guatemala in search of better opportunities and was forced to leave his sons Jorge* and Alejandro* behind. In spite of that, he kept in close contact with them. When the day to reunite with their father came eight years later, Jorge and Alejandro were detained upon arriving stateside by the U.S. Border Patrol.

When Jose received this news, he sought immediate assistance at El Centro de la Raza to get his sons back. Our Benefits Enrollment Navigator provided Jose translation assistance for the paperwork to secure his sons’ release from a detention center. Before his sons arrived in Seattle, Jose also received guidance on how to enroll his sons at a local high school.

He plans to enroll in our free ESL classes and continues to work with our Benefits Enrollment Navigator to find a permanent home for his family. Jose is excited to become the father he has always dreamt of being to Jorge and Alejandro.

“Thank you to El Centro de la Raza for the assistance and guidance provided to me and helping to reunite my family.”

ROBERTO FELIPE MAESTAS SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT Cielo

When Cielo first came to El Centro de la Raza from Guatemala, she received individualized help through our Child and Youth programs and found so much more. She found her voice and a community that provided her endless encouragement and support. In turn, she wanted to advocate for fellow immigrants and refugees by taking on leadership opportunities, including becoming a board member of El Centro de la Raza.

Her apt message of the political climate resonates with us, “There are people who will help you if you work hard and seek for help. It doesn’t matter where you are from, what language you speak, you can be anything you want in this country if you believe in yourself.” She was a 2019 Roberto Felipe Maestas Scholarship recipient. This award helped offset the cost of college where she is studying political science and social work. Her dream career is to inspire immigrant and refugee youth to pursue their dreams. Cielo inspires us with her drive and insight.
